February 19, 2014

“William M. Gormly, President of CIPF, Ltd., has been selected as an Honored Member of the National Association of Distinguished Professionals. The selection recognizes William M. Gormly's commitment to excellence in Finance.”

- Portland-Vancouver, OR-WA (1888PressRelease) February 19, 2014 - William M. Gormly, who holds a Bachelor's Degree in Economics from Dickinson College and a Degree in Senior Bank Management, Corporate Finance, and Securities Law from The Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, founded his investment banking firm 32 years ago in 1982. Previously working in the commercial banking business in corporate banking, Mr. Gormly earned extensive experience that enabled him to go off on his own.

As the president of CIPF, Ltd., Mr. Gormly develops business opportunities through referrals and advertising in the 'International New York Times'. He works with clients from beginning to end, knows when to continue or sever a client relationship based on client honesty, and overcomes all business related obstacles as they surface. He makes it a priority to follow the market daily and read professional business magazines and newspapers like 'Fortune', 'The New York Times', and 'Wall Street Journal' to stay abreast of everyday business trends. He also enjoys making speaking engagements for various other organizations when he's offered the opportunity.

Initially inspired by his father, who was a very successful banker himself for PNC Bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Mr. Gormly became interested in investment banking after working in several senior positions in commercial banking and having dealt with investment bankers from time to time. Since opening his firm, he has closed more than $1.2 billion, including one deal for approximately 25 hospitals of $500 million, which was at the time, and may still be, the largest healthcare deal in the history of the United States, HBCS.

"The deal took three years to complete," Mr. Gormly explained. "I had to fire two investment bankers, several lawyers, and even the initial lead hospital because they all thought it couldn't be done. But they were wrong. When I get involved with a deal, my obligation is to the client, not other investment bankers, lawyers, or other consultants."

Hoping to land a very large deal internationally, possibly in Europe, the Middle East, or Central Asia, Mr. Gormly realizes that, due to a much smaller, less efficient infrastructure to that of the US, it would be much harder because the banks do not make business loans. However, he does love a challenge and enjoys helping others. Notably, Mr. Gormly has lived in six underdeveloped countries for several months each time, including Romania, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Egypt and the West Bank and Gaza. He has also been to Croatia and Bulgaria. In each case, he was the advisor to their governments in investment banking. Notably, Mr. Gormly has also been listed to Marquis Who's Who in the World and Who's Who in Finance and Industry for his successes.
